BOOZE MOVIE BEST SERMON

The six-reel film depicting Jack London's famous story "John Barleycorn," given at the Princess theatre last Sunday under the auspices of the local churches proved of immense interest and was greeted by a full house at both of the afternoon performances. To any one who has had repeated opportunities for observing inebriates and the various stages of alcoholism neither the story or the film production can be regarded as overdrawn. In fact it is so strikingly realistic as to be practically proof positive that it was conceived by one who had "been thru the mill." A production like that of Sunday causes more men to vote dry we believe, than very many sermons or lectures. The Sentinel congratulates the local churches for what they did last Sunday.

The United States Department of Commerce and Labor says that 700,000 men are unfit for work every day because of drink; 1,800,000 children of school age are forced to labor because of liquor; 3,000,000 women are compelled to work because of inability of husbands through drink to support them.
